Claims 1-5 are presented for examination.

The amendments and remarks filed on have been received and entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Holly et al. (US 5,380,303) in view of Richie et al. (US 2004/0151765).

Holly et al. teach the use of an anti-microbial agent in combination with a chelating agent such as, EDTA and a buffer in an ophthalmic formulation. The above reference differs from the claimed invention in the presence of the specific antibiotics and antifungal agents in the dependent claims. Richie et al. teach the use of the claimed antibiotics in combination with EDTA for the treatment of microbial infection and wound healing. See the abstract. The use of the chelating agents is taught on page 4, column 1, paragraph [0047]. The use of the claimed antibiotics is taught on page 4, column 2 paragraph [0050]. The above references in combination make clear that the claimed antibiotics have been previously used in combination with EDTA. To prepare a suitable ophthalmic formulation would have been obvious to a person in the art, considering that Holly et al. teach the use of EDTA and antimicrobial agent in ophthalmic formulations as old and well known.

The newly submitted amendments necessitate the new ground of rejection.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
